Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fieldman (US# 1991201).

Fieldman discloses all the limitations of the instant claims including; a rotation shaft 26 disposed along an axis of a body case 10, a partition wall 24a provided so as to partition a space formed between the rotation shaft and the body case, a vane member 25a disposed to be rotatable with rotation of the rotation shaft in a liquid chamber partitioned by the partition wall in which viscous liquid is charged, wherein the vane member can rotate while allowing its upper end surface, lower end surface and tip end surface to respectively slide on a lower surface of a closing member which closes an opening of the body case, an inner surface of a bottom wall of the body case and an inner peripheral surface of the body case, the vane member partitions the liquid chamber into a pressure chamber and a non-pressure chamber, a liquid passage which has a large hole portion 48 and a small hole portion 47 smaller than the large hole portion, which penetrates the vane member in a direction portion being substantially parallel to an axial direction, the large hole portion being in communication with the pressure chamber, and the small hole communication with the non-pressure chamber, and a valve body 49 movably disposed in the large hole portion of the liquid passage, wherein a passage to make the large hole portion communicate with the pressure chamber comprises a groove 52 formed in one of the upper end surface or the lower end surface of the vane member and a passage to make the small hole portion communicate with the non-pressure chamber comprises a groove 47 and/or 50 formed on the other of the upper end surface or the lower end surface of the vane member.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 8/20/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant's arguments directed towards aspects of the manufacture of the devices are not persuasive as the arguments are narrower than the recitations of the instant product claims.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
